In Memoriam of

Diesel (Ozzie)

Do (Cool)

Cath Muermans

Saying goodbye is one of the most difficult phases in my life as a dog.

For ten years I have enjoyed my carafree life with my friend Ozzie.

The end is near for him.

A life without him is hard to imagine.

Together we have walked the most beautiful roads, romped around and sometimes made life difficult for each other.....but you were always there for me.

Tomorrow is the day.

At three o'clock, the vet will let you take your last breath

Today I will watch over you.

Tomorrow I will mourn you

Today is the day.
They think I don't know that.
My body feels heavy.
Getting up has become a hard job.
My time here is over.
They don't know I realize that myself.
I will surely miss, my dear Cool.

Every night I will watch over you.

Soon the vet will come.

Goodbye everyone.....

Ozzie
